thanks & inspiration

Much of my gaming and tools have been inspired by Nimble, Dungeon World, The Monsters Know What They're Doing, and Return of the Lazy Dungeon Master. Special thanks to all my art teachers, including Tom Duchscher and Dan Petersen.

sample & guide

what you'll need

- UNCS Nimble Character Sheets
- Nimble Core Rules book
- Nimble Heroes book or 'zines

pencil using pen & paper

1. Learn your character's abilities.
2. Write down just enough to jog your memory later.
3. At the table, reduce distractions and keep the game flowing.

UNCS variations

Universal. Easy-reference sheets (sample below) with locations for the most important character info.

Nimble. Minimally-labeled sheets for maximum note-taking flexibility. Comes in 2 per page or full sheet.

Class-specific. Special symbols and tracking boxes provide reminders, not replacements, of the official rules.

Locked Abilities.

Class-specific sheets include reminders of feats gained at certain levels, which are marked by an icon that specifies the level required. Fill in these icons as you gain levels to indicate unlocked abilities.

the sneak sheet

concentration

Breaks when a creature drops to 0 HP, is Incapacitated, or when crit then fails a DC 10 STR save to keep concentration.

conditions

Blinded. Can't see. Attacks against you have advantage. Your attacks have disadvantage.

Charmed. You think the charmer is an ally. Charmer has advantage on social interactions with you.

Dazed. -1 action per round.

Dying. At 0 HP, 1 action per round, attacking or casting a spell causes 1 Wound on a failed DC 10 STR save, and taking damage causes 2 Wounds or 3 on a crit.

Frightened. Disadvantage on rolls against the source of fear. Speed is halved while moving closer to it.

Grappled/Restrained. Can't move. Attacks against you have advantage.

Incapacitated. Can't do anything. Attacks against you have advantage and melee attacks against you crit.

Invisible. Can't be seen. Your attacks have advantage. Attacks against you have disadvantage.

Petrified. Incapacitated. Immune to most damage except large explosions, picks, etc.

Poisoned. Disadvantage on rolls.

Prone. Movement costs double. Your attacks have disadvantage. Melee attacks against you have advantage; ranged have disadvantage. Spend 3 speed to stand up.

Riding. You move with your mount. Attacks that miss you hit your mount.

Slowed. Speed halved.

Taunted. Disadvantage against all creatures except the one that taunted.

Statuses without direct effects

(e.g): Bloodied, Charged, Distracted, Hampered, Smoldering, Wounded

damage

Environmental hazards:

1d8	coals, falling bookcase
2d8	lightning, fell into a bonfire
2d8+10	acid vat, fallen beams
3d8+30	lava river, crush chamber
4d8+40	inferno, disappointed dad

Falling. 1d6 for every 10 ft. (3 m).

Forced movement. 1d6 for every space of blocked forced movement, split between the forced creature and the obstacle.

Improvised weapons. 1d4+STR or 1d6+STR. May break on crit.

Objects hit points:

1 HP	bottle
5 HP	lute, window
15 HP	barrel, oak door
30 HP	cart

Unarmed strikes. 1d4, can't crit.

leveling up

- 1. Health. Increase max hit points by 1 hit die rolled at advantage. Gain 1 max hit dice.
- 2. Skills. Increase 1 skill by 1. May move 1 skill point as long as it keeps skills positive. Skills have +12 max.
- 3. Class feats. See class descriptions.
- 4. Consequences. Adjust anything that relies on LVL. When a stat is raised, adjust their respective skills and other attributes:
 - STR: inventory slots
 - DEX: initiative, armor
 - INT: languages

monsters

Default stats. Medium, unarmored, speed 6, reach 1, flat d20 saves.

Flunkies. Can't crit.

Minions: Can't crit. Have 1 HP. Attack with a single die. Combine the damage of their attacks against the same target as if it were one attack (e.g., for use with Defend and Interpose).

Minion attack by average hero level:

1-3	d4
4-6	d6
7-10	d8
11-13	d10
14-17	d12
18-20	d20

rests

Field rest: catch breath. 10 minutes.

One at a time, expend a hit die to heal its rolled value +STR.

Field rest: make camp. 8 hours with food & water. One at a time, expend a hit die to heal its max value +STR.

Lodging boons. A special event or an extra cost (Lavish lodging) grants a benefit until next safe rest:

- 1 Alacrity. +KEY speed
- 2 Charisma. Adv. against charms
- 3 Displacement. Adv. to hide
- 4 Foresight. Make any KEY actions you can see crit or fail
- 5 Friendship. Adv. to persuade
- 6 Intuition. +KEY initiative
- 7 Protection. 2xLVL temp HP
- 8 Repose. Heal KEY wounds
- 9 Verve. +KEY to attack damage
- 10 Unity. +KEY mana

Lodging costs per hero. Poor (2 sp), Comfortable (2 gp), Lavish (10 gp).

Safe rest. GM decides availability and duration. Recover all HP and resources, heal 1 wound, and potentially allow for class option switching (see class descriptions).

sight & sound

Cover. Mostly obscured creatures (from objects, poor light, a larger ally, etc.) get disadv. on attacks against them.

Full cover. Completely obscured creatures can't typically be targeted.

Hiding. Action. Requires cover from target(s). DC 15 Stealth check to become hidden; full cover grants automatic success. (CR pg. 10)

Outdoor visibility w/o obstructions:

- 2 miles (3 km) on a clear day
- 1/2 mile (1 km) in the rain
- 10 spaces in the fog, then poor light an additional 10 spaces
- 6 spaces by torchlight or lanterns

Sound. Whispers carry 3 spaces, normal speech 8, and shouting 30.
